

Shoichiro Iwakiri was born in 1959 in Japan. He acquired his B.A. and M.A. in literature from the University of Tokyo, and DEA from the Université Paris 7. He started teaching at International Christian University (ICU) in 1996. After serving as Director of Admissions Center and Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, he has been serving as President of ICU since April 2020. His specialty is modern and contemporary French poetry and drama. He has translated more than 20 French plays into Japanese. He received the Yuasa Yoshiko Prize in 2008 for his drama translation work. He was appointed Officer of the Order of Academic Palms (Officier dans l'ordre des Palmes académiques) by the French Ministry of National Education in 2023.